PERMISSION TO REPRODUCE IS GIVEN WITH THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS

Requests for permission to reproduce an image for publication must be made in writing and include the intended use, the publisher, title of the publication, and expected date of publication.

Reproduction is permitted only from materials supplied by the Portland Art Museum. Permission is granted for only one usage in one publication, one edition, and in one language. Additional language editions and subsequent revised editions will be considered on application.

The full credit line exactly as supplied by the Portland Art Museum, must appear in immediate proximity to the image, or in the section devoted to photographic credits. No abbreviations are permitted. Full documentation consists of: Portland Art Museum, Portland, Oregon, the artist's name, title of the work of art, date (if given), medium, and size. In addition, the credit line MUST include the donor's name when mentioned. In the case of films, television, or filmstrips, the credit line must be included in the credits.

Each image must be reproduced unaltered and in its entirety unless approved in writing by the Portland Art Museum. The reproduction must not be cropped, bled off the page, printed on color stock, or with colored ink, or have anything be superimposed on the image. When a detail is used, the word DETAIL must appear in the credit line.

The Portland Art Museum reserves the right to deny permission to reproduce an image from its collection to any application whose product is not acceptable to the Portland Art Museum for any reason.

Failure to pay the required fees for reproduction means that permission has not been granted.

Upon date of publication, the publisher is to provide the Portland Art Museum with at least one complete, gratis copy of the publication in which the image is reproduced.

If so requested, a proof must be approved by the Portland Art Museum before reproduction of an image in color. If a proof is still not judged of sufficient quality even after correction, the Portland Art Museum has the right to withdraw permission to publish.

This permission is valid only for the individual, company, or institution to who it is specifically issued and may not be transferred, assigned, sold, or otherwise disposed of without the Portland Art Museum's permission in writing.

Certain works of art owned by the Portland Art Museum may be protected by a copyright not owned by the Portland Art Museum. Responsibility for ascertaining whether any such rights exist, for paying any royalties or fees claimed by the artist, his or her heirs or estate, and for obtaining all other necessary permissions, remains with the applicant.

The Portland Art Museum makes no warranties or representations and assumes no responsibility whatsoever for any claims against applicant or the Museum by the artists, their agents, estates, or by any parties in connection with the reproduction of works of art in the collection of the Portland Art Museum. The applicant agrees to indemnify the Portland Art Museum and hold it harmless against any and all such claims, including copyright infringement claims, royalty or fee demands and/or actions, including the costs thereof arising as a result of the applicant's reproduction of the works of art in the Portland Art Museum. Copyright owners or reproduction rights may be retained by the artist for works of art created after January 1, 1978. Any and all royalty payments or other requirements specified by the copyright owner of such a work must be paid or honored by the publisher or agent requesting reproduction permission.

I have read and agree to the above conditions and agree to promptly pay all applicable fees.
